The little flag was a receipt for the con Those public libraries which are unable to buy some of the newer hooka on special subects, and there are many such libraries in the state, will be interested in knowing that the Library Commission has made provision for loaning to them certain groups of books, which will prove attractive to library patrons. Poetry Groups Ready to Lend. The Poetry group (see Bulletin, January 1916, p. 18) has been broken up and is now included as part of two new groups having twenty volumes each. These groups supplement each other, so that in a town where there has been decided interest in one group, the second one can be obtained. The new titles have been chosen from the list in the February 1917 Bulletin, p. 40. Eye Witness Groups for Lending. A new group, -Eye-witness Accounts ot the War, has been made up, and is proving popular. The other war groups seem to have served their purpose and have been broken up. The Business and Vocation groups are still in circulation, and will be added to as good new books are published. Both the poetry and the war groups are lent for a six-weeks period. Address requests for reservations to the Traveling Library Department, 604 University Avenue, Madison, Wis. Plays for Children ami Young People. The demand for plays suitable for high school use justifies the commission in making provision also for sending out...
