And the ravens, brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening. --i Kings, xvii. 6. The ornithology of the Bible is a very interesting study. The stork which knoweth her appointed time. The common sparrows teaching the lesson of Gods providence. The ostriches of the desert, by careless incubation, illustrating the recklessness of parents who do not take enough pains with their children. The eagle symbolizing riches which take wings and fly away. The pelican emblemizing solitude. The bat, a flake of the darkness. The night hawk, the ossifrage, the cuckoo, the lapwing, the osprey, by the command of God in Leviticus, flung out of the worlds bill of fare. I would like to have been with Audubon as he went through the woods, with gun and pencil, bringing down and sketching the...
